The Study on Geriatric Assessment for Patients 70+:
Bridging the GAP to Improve
Chemotherapy Toxicities

This research involves the Cancer Doctor and the patient. You might have an opportunity to take part in the study if your doctor is participating.

THE GOAL OF THIS STUDY

This study is to find out if a Geriatric Assessment can help improve and develop a standard approach for reducing side effects from chemotherapy in older patients with cancer.

GERIATRIC ASSESSMENT

- Will determine an older patient's level of independence taking into account health conditions and physical performance
- Can be used to predict who is at risk for side effects
- Will address age-related concerns

THE GAP70+ Study

Geriatric Assessment for Patients 70+:
Bridging the GAP to Improve
Chemotherapy Toxicities

HOW LONG DOES THE STUDY TAKE?

- Over a 6 month period, there are 4 study visits (screening/visit 01 combined)
- The first survey takes 30-40 minutes to complete
- The three follow-up surveys take 20 minutes to complete

REIMBURSEMENT

- You will be compensated $15 for each completed study visit
