Cancer and Careers

8th Annual National Conference on Work & Cancer

The Adelphi Breast Cancer Program is pleased to partner with Cancer and Careers on the 8th Annual National Conference on Work & Cancer, on Friday, June 22, 2018 in New York City!

This FREE event will explore the complexities working people face as they try to balance their cancer treatment and recovery with employment. Topics will include job search, legal issues, health insurance, working during treatment and more. CEUs will be offered for oncology nurses and social workers.

For more details or to register, please visit www.cancerandcareers.org/conference.

Research Opportunities

Please use the contact information listed for each research project if you are interested in participating.

Have Your Voice Heard

Are you a current or former participant in a Breast Cancer Support Group?

Participate in a Research Study and share your experiences in Breast Cancer Support Groups.

This study is open to men and women 18 years and older who have participated in a breast cancer support group.

This survey is being conducted by Erin Nau, LCSW and Hillary Rutter, LCSW of the Adelpi NY Statewide Breast Cancer Hotline & Support Program.

>> For more information and to participate in this study

What was your experience with the financial costs of cancer treatment?

This study, conducted by researchers at the University of Louisville under the direction of Dr. Karen Kayser, is about the impact of cancer treatment on the financial well-being and quality of life of cancer survivors.

We are inviting volunteers who have been diagnosed with breast cancer or blood (Leukemia, Lymphoma, or Myeloma) cancer within the past five years to participate in this study. This study is open to men and women 18 years and older. It involves taking a 20-30 minute online survey and it is completely confidential.
